⇒ The full tour is multi-site tour which begins as the Grange Stone Circle. This is the largest and oldest in Ireland and has a rare example of neolithic artwork on one of its stones. The second stop is Teampull Nua (Irish - New Church), a 15th century ruined church on the lakes southern shore. After Teampull Nua you visit the Giant's Grave, a Bronze Age wedge tomb which is over 4,000 years old. Depending on livestock and weather, we sometimes bring guest up to Carraig Geala (Irish - the Bright Rock), where two fine examples of Gaelic-era ringforts are located overlooking the lake. The final stop is at the lakefront, where we also have our visitors' centre as well as a crannóg (man-made island), historical lime kiln. Many would say this is the most tranquil spot in all of Limerick. This tour typically last 2/2.5 hours.

There is a base rate of €100 and this covers 1 - 5 people.

6 - 10 people €17 extra per person

11 - 19 people €13 extra per person

20+ people €10 extra per person

The tour begins at the Grange Stone Circle (it does not begin at the lakefront or visitor centre)

Visitors will need a form of transport as we drive between the various sites.
